

Yesterday the APPEAL turned its 39th volume, and started another lap.

During its existence of nearly 20 years in Carson, it has pleased and displeased a good many people. During that time it never had an editor whose aim was to conciliate all interests and act as everybody's time-server.

At the present time the APPEAL is nobody's organ.

It has endeavored to stick to the right course, irrespective of the fact that Tom, Dick or Harry might be displeased by it.

It has recently been very strongly intimated to the editor of this paper that unless the APPEAL quits telling the truth its days are numbered in Ormsby county.

This foolish threat has been made at regular intervals many times before, and it effects us less now than it ever did.

When the APPEAL cannot exist without wearing a muzzle on its nose it will close up its shop.

THE BOODLERS' JUDGE.

The news from San Francisco indicates that the Grand Jury before whom the Democratic boodlers are fleeing by the Canadian route is to be knocked out by a man on the bench who is a sworn servant of the law.

A San Francisco dispatch says: "A second subpoena from the Grand Jury summoning Richard Chute to appear as a witness was served upon the latter Wednesday just after his release by Judge Murphy, who decided that Chute was not in contempt for refusing to answer the summons in the first instance. Judge Murphy will shortly be served with a subpoena to appear before that body, whose legality he has just passed upon, and will have an opportunity in his own person to prove the soundness of his decision."

On the personal assurance of Creed Haymond, his counsel, that Stephen T. Gage, a Director of the Southern Pacific Company, would appear on Friday next to show cause to show why he should not be punished for contempt for also failing to answer the subpoena of the Grand Jury, presiding Judge Wallace continued until that date the attachment for Gage, which was returnable Wednesday, but which had expired before the latter could be found.

We believe in the end that the people of California will see that the Grand Jury remains on top, although that body is having a very lively fight just now.

Boodler has finally committed suicide on the grave of his mistress. Had he loved his country as he did his concubine he might have been accorded a niche in the pages of history which he can now never occupy. Only a man equal in greatness to Napoleon can run the French republic and another man's wife at the same time.

The boodlers of San Francisco have a good friend in Judge Murphy. He stands between them and the penitentiary in times of need. Whether he is doing this merely for his health or not no one knows. Perish the thought that he is making a cent.

Jim Murphy, of the firm of Murphy Bros., who ran McKinnis old resort last Summer is now in the city. He is taking in the races and renewing old acquaintances. He reports heavy winds at Lake Tahoe and considerable damage to the Tallac steamer in a gale by being battered against the pier at Tahoe City.

The Biglow & Hall Comedy Company drew a good house last night and rendered a good program. The troupe will be here until Saturday night and will change the program each evening.
